CFC contributions fall short; Center director cites need

Marshall Center Director David King reminds team members that this is the last week for Combined Federal Campaign contributions and the Center has fallen short of its $550,000 goal. "Our Center's participation level is lower than in recent years --- something that is out of character for this Team." King thanks those who have contributed and asks those who have not to "reflect on what you can do to help our many neighbors in need."

Make CFC contributions by cash or payroll deduction via WebTADS. See <http://cfc.msfc.nasa.gov>

For process change for travel receipts, see 'Inside Marshall'

American Education Week luncheon is Monday

The American Education Week luncheon will be 11:30 a.m. Monday at the Redstone Officers' and Civilians' Club. L. Dian Stoskopf, director of education for the U.S. Army Human Resources Command in Washington, D.C. is the speaker. David King, Marshall Center director, has also signed a proclamation recognizing American Education Week.
